Day 45

There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus.
Romans 8:1 (ESV)

Many Christians have the disconcerting experience of believing that the Bible is true, but also having a very hard time really believing some of the things it says. Honestly, haven't you felt condemned – maybe many times – since you became a Christian? Regardless of the immediate source, the experience was REAL. So, what do we do with the Scripture above? First, notice that the subject is not 'how we feel', but what IS. We know God cannot lie, so if you know you are in Christ but still feel condemned, you are tuned-in to a broadcast from hell. Satan is expert and tireless as the "accuser of the brethren". Second, note that the existence of someone telling lies does not force you to listen. We have certainly all sinned, but if you have genuinely confessed and repented and still don't feel cleansed, then something is wrong – and it isn't the truth of Scripture. Quickly grab your inner radio dial and tune to a different station. Try KGOD:

ALL TRUTH ALL THE TIME